Announcement regarding the Assistant Entry Clerk for CFA:

The Assistant Entry Clerk Program is no longer available from this link.

It can no longer provide activation codes for shows nor can Steve reply to support requests.

The current program does not work well with Windows 10. It was noticed that windows updates were causing problems a few months ago, and this situation has gotten worse.

We have come up with some work arounds that will allow users to continue using this program. These workarounds work best on Windows 8 on older operating systems. These are not available in a download but can be obtained from:

Please also use these contacts for any support issues.
We are currently at work on a replacement option for the Entry Clerk program.

Thank you for your cooperation while we work this out.
